Update on China Market, SICOM and GPSNR

China being the world's largest importer and consumer of Natural rubber will no doubt continue to influence world NR prices. With the new administration in the USA threatening increased trade wars, how will the NR market in China perform in the year 2025? With this in mind, we have invited Ms Gao Linlin, an award winning market analyst in China, to give us an update of the China NR market.

Anticipating turbulent NR price movement from increased Geopolitical tensions, we have Mr Kenneth Ng to give us an update of the SICOM futures contract and to talk to us about hedging risks, Options trading as well as to explain the newly launched "Aggregate Exposure Report (AER)". Kenneth is a Director at SICOM and a Commodities Specialist.

With the delay of EUDR implementation, we have invited Mr Stefano Savi, the CEO of GPSNR, to update us on the development at GPSNR including the adoption of the Shared Investment Framework representing a pioneering approach to financing collective sustainability goals with transformative projects to strengthen our industry's long-term resilience.
